Interpretative Teapots

For the third "Celestial Seasonings: A Loose Interpretation" competition, 200 artists submitted proposals for teapots inspired by the packaging, product title or history of the herbal tea company Celestial Seasonings. Presented at the company's headquarters in Boulder, Colorado, the exhibition featured teapots by 30 of those artists.

"Every year we are amazed at the depth of creativity each artist brings to this project," observed company representative Lisa Earl Berryment. "Some [works] are beautiful, some eclectic, some whimsical."

Nearly every artist who submitted a proposal drinks herbal tea; in fact, many chose to portray or interpret their favorite blend.

Ceramists Doug Anderson and Irena Zaytceva were awarded second and third place, respectively, for their teapots. Both were purchased by Celestial Seasonings for its permanent collection, as was the teapot "For Celestial Seasonings" by Nancy Selvin, who received an honorable mention for her work. ▲

"Peach Tree Party," 14 inches in height, wheel-thrown and handbuilt earthenware with underglazes and glazes, low fired, by Doug Anderson, San Francisco.
